

Liz Beckmann

Liz Beckmann is Regional Director- Europe for EchoPixel Inc. and is based in Sussex. She gained a B.Sc.(Eng.) in electrical and electronic engineering from King's College London. Joining EMI Medical in 1977 where she became involved in the early technology of CT scanning. Liz has continued to work in the application of technology to medicine especially in imaging and surgery. She has a focus on the use and benefit of computer applications and image analysis to clinical areas outside radiology, especially in surgery.

Liz is well known Internationally, lecturing at numerous meetings. She has held a number of national and international positions including as a committee member- CARS (Computer Assisted Radiology and Surgery) Conference for over 25 years and is a Past President and fellow of the British Institute of Radiology.