

Mike Grevitt

Mike Grevitt is a consultant spinal surgeon specialising in paediatric deformity. He has been in Nottingham since 1998 and was a former head of service for the department of spinal surgery.

He has held many advisory roles for national bodies and societies including the British Orthopaedic Association, National Institute for Clinical Excellence, National Clinical Advisory Service and British Scoliosis Society.

He is active in the AO Foundation and has held senior roles as chair of the Community Development and Education Commissions of AOSpine. The latter is a non-profit organisation that serves a global community of 6000 spine surgeons.

He is active in spine education both national and international events and continues to contribute original research.