

Thomas Heiliger

Thomas Heiliger did his Master Degree in Mechanical Engineering at the Technical University Munich with a focus on Medical Devices and Robotics.

His bachelor thesis was a minimally invasive endoscopic robot in cooperation with the University Hospital Munich (Rechts der Isar). The Topic of his Master Thesis “Robotic Phantom for Radiotherapy” was with Brainlab and TU Munich. Since 2015 he is with Brainlab and has the role as Product Manager “Surgical Robots”