

Olakunle Badmus

Olakunle Badmus graduated from College of Medicine, University of Lagos, Lagos, Nigeria. He completed his residency in 2006 and subsequently received his Fellowship of the West African College of Surgeons in the specialty of Trauma and Orthopaedic Surgery. Since then he has been a Consultant Trauma and Orthopaedic Surgeon at the Lagos University Teaching Hospital. He was the first Head of Department of the Accident and Emergency Department of the hospital from 2009 to 2013 and was instrumental to developing a triage tool with dedicated resuscitation areas adhering to the ATLS principles. Currently, he is the Coordinator of the Surgical Skills Centre as well as the head of the Spine unit in the Department of Orthopaedics. He is a Faculty member of the Basic Surgical Skills Course in Lagos, AO Trauma principles Course in Nigeria. He is a member of the Nigerian Orthopaedics Association and the International AO Trauma society. In addition to his expertise in general orthopaedics, trauma and foot and ankle surgery; his special interests are in all aspects of spinal surgery and deformity. He has undergone clinical spinal fellowships at the Oschner Medical Centre, New Orleans, USA as well as the Centre for

Spinal Studies and Surgery at the Nottingham University Hospital,
UK. His speci

He is married to Olubunmi, a consultant Radiologist with whom he has 2 wonderful children- Durotimi and Naomi