

Jo Harrison

Jo is a strategic business development consultant for Siemens Healthineers with over 20 years' experience gained working across North America, Europe, MEA and Japan in the health sector developing solutions to improve quality of service delivery. As Director of Marketing for a leading Medical Devices company and latterly in consultancy Jo is passionate about solutions to enable equal access to high quality care, products and services and now specializes in Hybrid OR development and delivery.